

BMDW data upload service temporary out of service on Monday August 14

On Monday the 14th of August, our developers have to deploy some new features to the BMDW data upload service. This will result in a downtime of around 30 minutes till 1 hour.

If you are experiencing problems with accessing the service, we are probably working on this deployment.

We will post a message on this blog when the service is up and running again.

Thank you for your patience.