Temporary upload limit of 1000 records for BMDW data upload service

Our developers worked very hard to implement all our requirements and validation rules. The first version of the pipeline that can process all the data is now ready and we are currently performing many tests to identify as many problems before this procedure will be tested with the three large organization, NMDP/Be the Match, ZKRD and Anthony Nolan.

Until further notice, we would like to ask you to only upload test files with a maximum of 1000 records. Larger files will negatively influence the velocity of our testing period.

Once we will be focusing more on performance during processing of larger files, we will approach you again to help with uploading of larger files.

Thank you for your cooperation and if you experience any problems or receive error/warning messages that you do not understand or didn't expect, please send an email to support@bmdw.org
